VETS OWN THE CITY FROM END TO END.

PITTSBURG SURRENDERS TO BOYS IN BLUE.

Parade of Naval Veterans—City Gaily Decorated in Honor of the Arriving Hosts of the Grand Army—A Fair Standard Bearer—How the En campment Opened.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—The city has surrendered before the advance of the boys that wore the blue. The capitulation was peaceably effected. In fact, the latchstring was hung on the outside as soon as news was received that the advance line of skirmishers was in sight, and it only required a gentle pull to throw open the gates for the entrance of the advancing hosts. Tens of thousands of flags flutter in the breeze, the sidewalks are packed with the wearers of the familirr blue suits with brass buttons and the felt slouch hats, while the air is filled with the martial music of the bands that have pre-empted the roadways.

The chief event of yesterday was the parade and annual convention of the National Association of Naval Veterans. The line moved shortly before ten o'clock, the various divisions of the Sons of Veterans from other states having the right of line. Next came Chief Marshal H. M. Rebel, with Neylin Camp of Mountain Valley acting as his escort. The Sons of Veterans guard, 1,000 strong, in command of Col. Daniel H. Buckland, the Pennsylvania camps being immediately in the rear; carriages containing members of the citizens' executive board; representative citizens and distinguished guests were next in line, and then came that picturesque body, the Naval reserves, under Lieut. Robson and acting as personal escort to Rear Admiral Osborn. Then came the members of the Naval Veterans' association.

The old salts were cheered all along the line of march, which extended through the principal down-town streets, along Fifth avenue and Smithfield streets and over to Allegheny. In the parade were carried many historic relics of naval warfare, among them the torn and stained banner which floated over the good old Kearsarge when she added luster to the American standard on the high seas.

Miss Carrie Lowe, daughter of Gen. A. L. Lowe of Eort Worth, Texas, carried the colors of the Dupont Naval association of Texas. She is a guest of Admiral Osborn, having stopped off here on her way to New York. She was the lone representative of the lone star state in the parade of the salts and her appearance elicited unbounded enthusiasm.

The column was reviewed by the national officers from a stand on Cedar avenue, Allegheny. Miss Daisy Tittle, the mascot of the naval veterans, who arrived yesterday from Cincinnati, was in the parade. She was dressed in regulation sailor uniform and marched beside Admiral Osborn, acting as his messenger. Miss Tittle has been the mascot of the organization since its inception and is a general favorite among the tars. She will to-day occupy a place of honor in the Grand Army parade.

The ninth annual convention of the organization was called to order at 1 o'clock at the Allegheny county court house. Rear Admiral Commanding B. S. Osbon delivered an address of welcome. Lieut. F. B. Allen, vice-president of the Hartford Boiler Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., succeeded B. S. Osbon as Rear Admiral. He was elected on the third ballot. A committee of Baltimore citizens addressed the convention and urged Baltimore as the place of holding the next convention.

National Secretary Boswick's report showed that charters have been issued to seven local associations during the year, in the cities of Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Bath, Maine; Boston, Annapolis, Dowell, and Rockford, Ill.

There is every reason to believe that Louisville will be the next "encampment city." Last evening the Louisville delegation claimed it had over 500 votes pledged, while St. Paul, the only other competitor, had but seventy to its credit.

Canvassing is going on briskly in connection with G. A. R. politics. Of the four candidates for the office of commander-in-chief each has strong backing among the delegates to the encampment. Judge Long of Michigan has an enthusiastic following, but the friends of Col. Lawler of Illinois claim to have almost all the northwestern states behind him, while the supporters of Col. Walker of Indiana assert that they have promises enough to carry him through. The Texas aspirant, John D. Bigger, also has plenty of friends who are confident of his ability to win.

Arrangements are perfected for to-day's big parade of veterans, when 90,000 men are to be in line. Five hundred extra policemen are on duty, and the best of order prevails. The day is a general holiday, as the Mayors of Pittsburg and Allegheny issued proclamations asking that as much business as possible be suspended, so that as many people may see the parade as possible.

ASK CONGRESS FOR AID.

Action of the American Society of Irrigation Engineers.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 11.—The American Society of Irrigation Engineers is holding its second annual convention in this city. The committee appointed to suggest desired amendments to the United States statutes relating to the right of way of canals and ditches over public lands submitted a draft for such amendments which was partly discussed. The amendments are mainly to devise means to expedite the approval of maps of public lands through which canals or ditches are to be constructed. The committee suggested that when a member wished approval that he notify the members of other congressional districts and they in turn notify their congressmen and the combined force of congressmen use their best methods to expedite matters. No definite action was taken.

The convention will issue a book of 267 pages entitled "Annual of the American Society of Irrigation Engineers." In it is a complete history of the organization and a full and complete discussion of all matters relating to irrigation by competent authorities.

Show Plankinton Bank Methods.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 11.—In the ex parte proceeding against F. T. Day and William Plankinton yesterday John P. Murphy, ex-cashier of the Plankinton bank, told what he knew of that institution. He left the bank five months before the failure. He said that loans were made by the bank officers in the most careless manner and on insufficient security. Mat Landauer, who made an examination of the assets of the bank, testified that it was insolvent in May, 1893. The examination will conclude to-day.

Rechabites at East Liverpool.

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio, Sept. 11.—The High Tent of the Independent Order of Rechabites of America convened here yesterday for four days' session, with nearly sixty of the delegates present, representing New York, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Michigan, Ohio and Georgia. Fight to Keep Their Guns.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 11. — The Washington Light Infantry of Charleston flatly refused to obey Tillman's call last fall during the dispensary riots. The governor issued an order commanding the company to surrender its arms. This order was also disobeyed and an appeal to the courts, which came up yesterday, was made for an injunction to prevent the governor or any state officers from taking posession of the arms.

WIND FANS THE FIRE TO ASHLAND'S EDGE

FOREST FLAMES WORK THEIR WAY NORTH.

The City in Peril—The Town of Saxton Also Threatened With Annilation—People of Bessemer, Michigan, Fight to Keep a Powder Mill From Exploding.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 11.—Strong winds have fanned up the forest fires in this vicinity and they are burning fiercely in nearly every direction. They crossed what is known as the Cemetery road and south of Ashland Driving Park association, whose buildings are located two miles out from Ashland, are in danger of burning. The fire is also quite close to Mount Hope cemetery, with the strong wind constantly bringing it nearer. Washburn was enveloped in a cloud of smoke all day. The following dispatch was received from Saxon last night:

"Forest fires are raging about here. Water is being hauled by running teams. Citizens are moving out of their homes with all possible speed. If the wind continues for a few hours the town is lost."

Saxon is a small town on the Northwestern road and several large charcoal kilns are operated there by the Ashland Iron and Steel company, which give the main support. Saxon was threatened once last week, and it was supposed that the timber about there was sufficiently burned off to prevent further danger.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 11.—Gov. Peck has learned that not more than twenty families in Douglas county have suffered by the fires. He says that he does not mean that no outside aid will be accepted, but he does not want the state to be put in the position of soliciting it.

FIRE NEAR A BIG POWDER MILL

People of Bessemer, Mich., Have a Hard Fight to Avoid Annihilation.

BESSEMER, Mich., Sept. 11.—The entire city fire department and several hundred citizens were fighting fire all last night in the vicinity of the Gogebic powder mill. Had the fire reached the mill and an explosion followed the entire city would have been demolished and hundreds of lives lost, as the mine is within the city limits and has a large stock of dynamite on hand. A strong wind prevails and the danger is not yet over.

HINCKLEY, Minn., Sept. 11.—Forest fires that threatened Mora, Barnum, and other towns yesterday are dying out, having destroyed almost all inflammable material in this section of the state. The skulls of three persons were found near Snake river, west of Hinckley. A large and enthusiastic meeting of business men and persons from out of town interested in the welfare of the village was held yesterday. Great interest was displayed, and the same determination and energy which have characterized the business men since their almost insurmountable loss was manifest at the meeting, which was held on the ruins of the old town hall. Rebuilding will be begun at once on a systematic basis.

BARNUM, Minn., Sept. 11.—High winds have been blowing from the west, northwest and southwest since Sunday afternoon, causing the fires in this vicinity to burn anew. Fortunately the residents of this village back-fired last week and Barnum is not placed in any immediate danger. High winds at times take small tree tops right into the village. No rain of any amount has fallen here for two months. Barnum feels the safest it has for a good while.

MADISON, Ind., Sept. 11.—Smoke from the northern forest fires settled down like a dense fog over this city yesterday afternoon. The sun is blood red. The Kentucky hills are invisible from the Indiana shore and all steamers must be delayed.

Railway Offers Land to Settlers.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 11.—The St. Paul & Duluth Railway company has made an offer to any of the fire sufferers who may desire to locate on the railroad. The land is to be sold to actual settlers in forty to eighty acre tracts, the first payment coming after two years. But if at the end of that time the purchaser has forty acres under cultivation and a dwelling-house actually occupied, the full first payment, being one-third of the whole, will be canceled. The effect of this is to give these lands to actual settlers and hold up an inducement for their cultivation, but to discourage any possible speculation in the free lands.

GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP MAKE THEM GLAD

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN AT HARRISBURG.

Addresses of the Grand Master—Order Has a Surplus of $77,279 and Has Paid $1,032,000 in Death and Strike Claims Since it Was Organized.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Nearly every railroad in the United States was represented in Chestnut Hill when the fourth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was called to order by Grand Master Sargent of Terre Haute, Ind., yesterday.

Grand Master Sargent delivered a lengthy address, reviewing the progress of the order and the troubles with which it had contended since the last biennial convention. He was repeatedly interrupted with applause, and when he concluded with the following stirring appeal the convention went wild:

"The present convention will mark the most stirring epoch in the history of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. Questions of grave importance are to be considered and it is necessary that you all shall be prepared to labor incessantly for the preservation of this grand institution. The twenty-one years that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen have been in existence have been fruitful of much good, and each delegate, as well as each member of our organization, should see to it that the grand structure, resting on a solid foundation, as it does, should not submit easily to its threatened destruction. Too well are the turbulent times of 1877-78-79 remembered by those who were members at the time. Then the brotherhood was tottering to its fall. The frightful strike of 1877 was the beginning of threatened disaster and loose business methods very nearly ended the brotherhood. Prompt and decisive action by your grand lodge officers, assisted by the true and loyal members, diverted the impending dissolution, and so it shall be at this time. Let the true and loyal delegates and members lend their able and valued assistance to your grand officers at this convention and once again the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen will have demonstrated that its presence among railroad laboring men is of too much value to be dispensed with at the mere beck of its enemies.

Financially the brotherhood was never in a better condition. The surplus on hand amounts to $77,279, $51,283 two years ago. More than this, in the period named, the organization has paid out $921,000 on death and disability claims, and $111,000 to striking firemen on the Toledo, Ann Arbo and North Michigan and the Lehigh Valley railroads. This is the best record financially that the brotherhood has ever made. Secretary Arnold continues:

"Our progress since our last convention has been very gratifying when the deplorable general condition of business throughout the country is considered, during which the railroads suffered more perhaps than other interests, and all this coupled with the late railroad boycott and the universal unrest in all branches of labor. I repeat that, all these things considered, our progress has been highly gratifying and satisfies me that, under normal conditions, with several years to test with, our growth numerically and financially will be enormous."

VILLAGE SWEPT BY FIRE.

Fifty Houses Reduced to Ashes at Dalton, Ohio,

MASSILLON, Ohio, Sept. 11.—The village of Dalton, Ohio, was visited by fire yesterday and as a result fifty houses were destroyed.

The entire business portion of the place was swept away and no comprehensive estimate of the losses can be made, but the total will not fall short of $200,000. The insurance amounts to little and the owners of the destroyed property are in many cases rendered almost penniless. The fire, which is thought to have been of incendiary origin, started about 2 o'clock. The village department turned out and fought the flames till the water supply, including the stores of the cisterns, was exhausted. Then help was called from Massillon, Orrville and Canton. Just as it seemed inevitable that every house in the village would be burned a heavy rain began to fall and soon the flames died out. All the telegraph wires were prostrated and the only communication with the outside world is by train.

Dalton is nine miles from Massillion and has a population of about 450

WAR ON OLNEY.

Knights of Labor Urged to Multiply Petitions for Impeachment.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Every local and district assembly of the Knights of Labor throughout the country has received within the last few days, or will receive before the end of the present week a special address from the general executive board on the subject of the Olney impeachment. The address says:

The petitions for the impeachment of Attorney General Olney should be increased and multiplied. Some of the petitions have been presented to congress and referred to the committee on judiciary. It is intended to supplement these petitions already by further petitions to the fiifty-fourth congress which meets on March 4 next. With that end in view we earnestly request every member of the order and of organized labor to inquire of the candidates for congress their position in reference to the judicial inquiry and impeachment proceedings asked for and act accordingly in casting their votes. Those candidates whom you can not reach in person write to, and forward their replies to the general secretary treasurer, so that they may be filed for use after the election. Continue to send your petitions to this office, so that at the proper time the sentiment of organized labor may be known as the legality of the action of the attorney general in lending the aid of the United States troops and United States courts to the railway managers in defeating labor and breaking the American Railway Union boycott and strike.

BIG GOLD NUGGET FOUND.

Miner Picks It Up in Australia—Said to Be Worth $30,000.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 11.—Advices from Australia by the steamer Warrimoor say that another immense nugget of gold was found eclipsing the famous Londonderry find. The nugget, which has been called the Dunn nugget, after its finder, weighs 1,800 ounces, and is worth over $30,000. It was taken from a reef, the whole face of which glitters with gold. Tremendous excitement prevails, and since the find property at the diggings has increased in value 500 per cent. The laboring miners at Cool Gardie have struck and demand $20 a week. They have armed themselves with rifles to prevent outsiders working in their places, Four thousand people are camped in the vicinity where Dunn found his nugget and 200 special police have been sworn in to protect property.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 11.—The statement of the Wabash system for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, which will be presented at the annual meeting of stockholders to-day, shows a deficit of $671,765 instead of a surplus of $247,580 derived from the previous year's traffic, or a total difference in profit of $919,345. Strikes at the numerous coal mines on the Wabash system during last May and June caused the greater part of this loss. The gross earnings were $12,551,448; net earnings, $2,721,067.

Contractors Signing the Bonds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Indications to-day point to a speedy settlement of the cloak and garment cutters' strike. About 400 of the strikers returned to work yesterday for contractors who have signed the bond demanded by the men. It is expected that by Thursday all of the contraators will have signed the required bond and that every one will be back to work. So far no terms looking to a settlement with the striking Knights of Labor in the clothing trade have been made.

FUND PUT IN A BANK AND INTEREST PAID

COUNCIL ACCEPTS A PROPOSITION FROM A. P. LOVEJOY.

The common council transacted important business last evening, of interest to tax payers and politicians. That of interest to the tax payers was the acceptance of a proposition of Hon. A. P. Lovejoy regarding the money borrowed for the construction of the new high school, Mr. Lovejoy's proposition being as follows:

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville:—I am informed that the city now has on hand about forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000) in school funds, borrowed for the purpose of building a new high school; that the probabilities are that the greater portion of said fund will not be used until next spring, but is now drawing five per cent interest against the city. I will take said fund from the city and pay thereon interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum on all sums not called for before March 1, 1895, and on all sums called for before March 1, will pay at the rate of two per cent. per annum, the whole amount or any part thereof to be subject to the call of the city or school board. I will furnish such security as will be approved by the mayor and common council or any committee or any person you may designate.

If the foregoing proposition should be deemed impracticable I will give the city as a bonus the same percentage as above stated, provided that the city will deposit said fund in the First National Bank of Janesville; said fund to be there deposited as city funds and subject to be drawn against the same as any deposit for school building.

Or, I will give a total bonus of five hundred dollars ($500) if the said fund is deposited in the First National Bank of Janesville, to remain on deposit there until needed for the purpose for which the money was borrowed.

Janesville, Wisconsin, September 10, 1894.

A. P. LOVEJOY.

Mr. Lovejoy's Offer Accepted.

The communication was referred to the finance committee, who subsequently reported by resolution, which was adopted by unanimous vote, the resolution reading as follows:

Resolved, That the mayor and common council of the city of Janesville recommend to the city treasurer that he deposite the unused school funds in the First National bank of Janesville; such deposits to remain there subject to check of the city treasurer for building purposes as needed.

Resolved, That upon the compliance with the foregoing resolution on the part of the city treasurer, that A. P. Lovejoy be requested to pay into the city treasury interest upon the amount so deposited from month to month in accordance with his proposition of this date. That the interest so accrued go into the school fund.

Bennett substituted as the republican inspector. Mayor Thoroughgood remarked that he had no personal feeling against Mr. Bennett, but had been requested to appoint some other republican; that Mr. Bennett was old and his sight was poor. The yeas and nays were called on the question of confirming the appointments, resulting: Ayes—Aldermen Baines, Heddles, Rich, Sutherland and Winslow, 5. Nays—Aldermen Cunningham, Kothman, McLean, Smith, 4.

A rule of the council reads: "No change shall be made in the appointment to any office in the gift for the people except by a majority of all the aldermen," and the mayor did not declare the result of the ballot, but requested that the aldermen from the Fifth ward, McLean and Smith, meet for private consultation in the clerk's office. A brief recess was called, and the three retired. In a few minutes they returned, the council proceeding with the regular business. The mayor stated privately that the appointments were all right, indicating by this remark that the Fifth ward aldermen had consented to allow the republicans to have a man of their own choice as the minority of the election board.

Fifth Ward Voting Booth Ordered.

The council adopted orders presented by these aldermen:

By Alderman Smith—For the repairing of Pleasant street, between Linn and Locust streets, to be paid from the Fourth and Fifth ward funds; to repair Pleasant street from the railroad tracks west to the city limits.

By Alderman McLean—To make repairs at the southeast corner of Bluff and Palm streets; also that the aldermen of the Fifth ward procure a suitable site in said ward and erect thereon a voting booth or building, for the use of the electors of the ward.

By Alderman Winslow—For the building of a number of new sidewalks in the Third ward.

By Alderman Cunningham—To repair the tiling at the northwest corner of River and Pleasant streets and at the northwest corner of Franklin and Rock; to build a block cross walk across Rock street on the west side of River street; and make repairs at the corner of North and Cherry streets.

Expert Through in Another Week.

In answer to a question by Alderman McLean, Alderman Baines said the expert now engaged in figuring up the ex-treasurer's books would complete his labors in about a week. He had reached the tax roll of '93. Alderman McLean remarked that a number of tax payers were very anxious to hear the result; that the expert was drawing pretty good pay, and he thought if the position was to be permanent the taxpayers should be informed. He had no doubt that the people would be delighted on hearing that a report would be made in a week.

Alderman Smith introduced an ordinance for the protection of the electric lights. The ordinance was read the first and second times, the rules suspended and the ordinance passed unanimously. The penalties are not less than $10 nor more than $50 for interfering in any manner with the wires or lamps. An order presented by Alderman Smith and adopted, authorizes a reward of $5 for the arrest and conviction of persons guilty of violating the ordinance.

The city marshal was directed to notify the Myers estate and all parties using the Milwaukee street sewer, to immediately extend the sewer down into the river, or to cease using the sewer. The sewer now empties its contents over the bridge abutment and fills the balmy breeze with fragrance.

North Street to Be Cleared.

By Alderman Kotbman—Directing the city engineer to survey North street between Park avenue and Lincoln street and to report to the council what obstructions or encroachments if any have been made upon said street. Also that the street commissioner serve legal notice upon the owners of property to build sidewalks on Galena and Linn streets.

By Alderman Heddles—To build a block crosswalk on the east side of Terrace street and across Ravine, and on the north side of Bluff across Madison; to clean the gutters on Ravine street, and to serve notice on owners of lots 75 and 76, Smith & Bailey's addition, to build sidewalks.

By Alderman Sutherland—To put a tile culvert across Bluff street, north side Pease's court; a plank crossing across Mary street on the north side of Hyatt street; also a block crossing across Prospect avenue on the east side of Wisconsin street; also a block crossing across Glen street on Fifth avenue.

Buy Three Books, Not Twenty.

Alderman Baines, from the committee to whom was referred the proposition of the publishers of the new city directory to take twenty-two copies recommended the purchase of three copies, one for the city clerk's office, and one each for the fire stations.

The bond of M. H. Curtis contractor for paving West Milwaukee street, was approved, as was the August report of the municipal court judge. The appointment of John W. Hogan as special police to October 25 and Treasurer Fathers' appointment of George H. Bates as deputy treasurer were confirmed.

Health Officer Robinson said there had been seven cases of scarlet fever during the month of August, that all were now convalescent.

The local butchers were given the use of the council chamber on September 16, to hold a meeting.

On motion of Alderman McLean Chief Acheson was directed to take proper steps to keep North street unobstructed by cars.

NOTHING BUT BALL AS SUMMER WANES.

"FANS" ABOUT THE COUNTRY FULL OF VIM.

Evansville People Howl at the Umpire in Their Sleep, and in Milton the Venerable Patriarchs of the Village Adventure Forth After Youthful Victims.

Evansville, Sept. 11.—The Evansville "Black Devils", base ballists, went to Oregon, and were unmercifully beaten by the Oregonians, who called in a pitcher from Madison to assist in the work of destruction. The score was 32 to 0. The citizens of Oregon and vicinity turned out en masse with cow bells and tin horns, and the frightful noises were potent factors in rattling the Evansville fiends who soon became as meek as lambs led forth for slaughter. Saturday afternoon, until broken up by the storm, was seen the best ball game witnessed here this season—"Sun Prairies" vs. "The Evansvilles." Batteries were: "Sun Prairies"—Hayden and Long. "Evansvilles"—Menor and Cal Broughton. In the seven innings completed the score stood 6 to 1 in favor of Sun Prairie. The Sun Prairie pitcher had the speed of the cannon ball, as three Evansville men hit by the ball can testify. In the seven innings he struck out ten men, gave four bases on ball and three limped off to first after being struck by the ball. In the same innings the Evansville pitcher struck out four men, gave three men bases on balls but attempted no manslaughter. D. B. Lovejoy who has spent a few weeks visiting in New York returned Saturday evening. A severe rain storm, accompanied by considerable wind and hail, visited this vicinity late Saturday afternoon.

EVERYONE IN MILTON PLAYS BALL.

Old and Young Engaged in a Four-Inning Struggle—Chairman Killam's Trade.

Milton, Sept. 11.—The only ball game of the season was played Friday afternoon between the "Oldsters and Kids." The old men's nine included Postmaster Morris, p.; Horace Maxson, c.; Mont. Smith, 1b.; Will McNitt, 2b.; Frank Palmeter, 3b.; John Davidson, ss.; Miles Rice, lf.; W. P. Clarke cf.; James Bond, rf. The battery for the Kids were Ray Clarke and Genie Davis. Fortunate for the old fellows a rain storm stopped the game when the Kids were playing their half of the fourth inning, the score then standing 12 to 7 in favor of the small fry. Gus Baus officiated as umpire and there was a crowd of spectators. Byron Coon returned from his visit in New York state Thursday. Milton was represented at the county convention by a goodly number of spectators in addition to its delegates. Mrs. Elsie Harvey has been visiting her brother Charles Sack. Mrs. E. H. Carey has gone to Pittsburg to attend the National Encampment of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. She will be the only representative from Milton. There are no complaints of a drouth in this region now, in fact, we have all the wetness we need at present. Rev. W. H. Summers occupied the pulpit at the Seventh-Day Baptist church Saturday morning. The "South Side" girls had a great game of ball Saturday afternoon on the Smith-Weiglef grounds. Charles Burrow and family are now residents of this village. He is the new section foreman. Rev. Mr. Peterson of Footville, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Summers last Sunday. J. J. Johnson of Oakland, Cal., has been visiting his niece, Mrs. Clem W. Crumb. Chairman Killam of the town board, has traded farms with George Hassenger of Lima, and will take possession next spring. G. E. Osborn has his new boiler and engine in position and will soon be ready for business. George Mizo, of Chicago, is in the village at the time we write. A number of villagers were at Walworth Saturday and Sunday, to attend the quarterly meeting of the Seventh day Baptists. President S. C. Carr, called a meeting of the Milton republican club, at P. of H. hall, Milton Junction, on Monday, September, 17, 1894, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing five delegates to represent the club in the republican state league convention, to be held in the city of Milwaukee on Wednesday September 19.

WEEK'S DOINGS AROUND FOOTVILLE

Sale of Gifts Netted Over $50—Ice Cream Social Friday Evening.

Footville, Sept. 11—Webb Owen is again on the sick list. Charles Hawk and family visited Janesville on Friday. Lewis Howe took his departure on Saturday for Beloit, where he will attend college. Miss Hogan returned to Janesville on Saturday, after a week's visit with friends in this vicinity. Mrs. Frank Dann is very ill. School is progressing finely under the skillful management of Professor Bleasdale. Mrs. Frank Owen visited Beloit last week. Ira Fisher is in North Dakota. The Misses Petersons have both left town to take charge of schools this fall. Quite a number of the men of this place attended the convention in Janesville on Friday. H. T. Harper spent Friday night in Hanover, being rained in. The missionary society meeting at Mrs. Howell's, was well attended and all enjoyed a good time, and some stayed so late that they had to be sent for. Joe Stickles left last week for Milwaukee, where he holds a position as operator in the Northwestern depot. Mrs. Harper visited friends and relatives, in Brodhead, over Sunday. Pearl Phillips spent last week with Etta Chipman. Mr. Stiles is selling some very fine grapes and peaches. Clara Edgerton leaves soon for Downer's college, at Fox Lake. Charles Hawk took his apples to the press and had a barrel of cider made. Signs are good for two more weddings in the lower ward. Footville hoodlums and polecats are still in the ring. W. F. Silverthorn and wife intend moving to Footville soon. William Ashby was seen passing around the cigars at a very late date, but, "better late than never." Frank Lowry is again able to be out and was a pleasant caller on Depot street Wednesday evening. A number of our young people anticipate a great time at the county fair this week. The surprise birthday party on Miss Clara Fisher was well attended and all pronounced a good time. The Misses Steivels returned to their home in Milwaukee last week. A number of our people expect to attend the yearly convention at Richland Center in October. William Howell and sister Emma returned home last week, after an extended visit with relatives and friends in Iowa. The "Sale of Gifts" at the opera house was largely attended, and about fifty dollars was cleared. There will be an ice cream and watermelon social at the residence of Samuel Honeysett on Friday evening, September 14. All are cordially invited. Mrs. George Bemis returned from Rockford and reports her daughter convalescent.

CLEAR LAKE CAMPERS SOAKED OUT.

Too Much Rain for Resorters—A Masque Ball the Last Attraction.

Clear Lake, Sept. 11—The tobacco harvest has commenced and a great many have all of their tobacco in the shed, while some are just beginning. Mrs. Etta Aldrich, who has been stopping with her mother all summer at Clear Lake Inn, went to Janesville today and will be found behind the counter at the Bee Hive. Mrs. J. M. Tillman and her mother, Mrs. C. Tillman of Clear Lake, have gone to Chicago, where they will remain for the winter. Most of the guests have gone from the lake now. Mr. and Mrs. Malachi Richardson of Janesville, spent last Sunday at C. Hackforth's. Mrs. A. L. Rose is able to set up again. She has been sick abed for a few weeks past. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbertson, of Janesville, spent a part of last week with their daughter, Mrs. C. Stockman. Oscar Olson, of Center, was here last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, of Milton Junction, who have been camping at the lake for the last three or four weeks, broke camp to-day and returned home. The rain was too much for campers. Mr. and Mrs. Denison, of the Inn, will give a grand masquerade dance at their place September 21.

ANOTHER AGENT WON'T COME.

B. L. Henrichs Prefers Boscobel to Janesville at the Same Salary.

Traveling Auditor D. G. McGrath is in charge of the local agency of the C. M. & St. P. railway in Janesville, and is likely to remain here several days. Mr. Henricks, of Boscobel, who was appointed to the local agency here, and who was expected here yesterday to take charge of the office, did not put in an appearance, and it is now rumored that he will not accept the position, preferring to remain in Boscobel. He has a handsome home in Boscobel, with a salary nearly equal to that he was to receive here, with much less work and responsibility. Superintendent Collins was in the city yesterday, and it was rumored around the depot after he left that a new man would be sent here in a few days, and all the boys are wondering who the man is.

He Was Hard to Fit.

We fitted one man yesterday who measured forty inches inseam for trousers with a thirty-six inch waist measure. His coat and vest size was thirty-eight inches with a thirty-seven inch sleeve. We are the only clothing house in Janesville that carries such odd sizes in ready to wear clothes. The Pickwick garments fit odd figures.

T. J. Ziegler.

A new "sign of the times" is the great plenty of venison in the London market. Formerly, those who owned deer shooting sent their bucks to their friends; now they send them to market to make a little money.

Co. will sell harvest excursion tickets on September 11, 25 and October 9, 1894, over its own lines west and over other other lines reaching through the Southern states, Southwestern states, western and northern states, at a one way fare plus $2.00 for the round trip, good for twenty days.

BUNCHES FOUND IN JANESVILLE SWITCH YARDS.

Street Commissioner Hanthorn Will Make a Display of the Weed at the Fair as a Warning to Farmers—Every Clump Should Be Rooted Out This Month.

Call it Russian cactus or call it Russian thistle, just as you like.

What you call it cuts no figure.

Here is the point.

The prickly, foreign vagrant has lodged in Janesville.

A big bunch hangs in The Gazette counting room, brought in by Street Commissioner George Hanthorn. Commissioner Hanthorn has a lot more of it at home, and intends to make an exhibit at the fair, to warn farmers who do not know the appearance of the pest.

Nobody supposed the weed had taken root in the Bower City. Bert O'Mealy, a newhew of Mrs. George Hanthorn, came here from Watertown, S. D., not long ago and has been telling the Hanthorns how South Dakota was overrun.

"It was spread by seeds dropped out of railroad cars," he said, "and I'll bet you'l find a good deal of it right here in town."

Commissioner Hanthorn laughed.

"I'm going to look along the track and see, anyway," said O'Mealy.

Today he went out, and hadn't walked two rods in the Northwestern switch yards before he found a luxuriant bunch. It was growing right beside the Pleasant street crossing, in a bed of cinders where sunflowers would starve to death and even pig weed would fade away. Not so with Russian cactus. It thrives and waxes fat on a sheet iron roof, and yet the richer the ground the quicker is the growth.

Strolling along the tracks O'Mealy found several other bunches. There was a big one near the Franklin street switch. All were alike in the stage of development. They were but half grown and had not yet grown hard and spiny. The slender, sprawly arms were covered with seed cells, and the plants looked much like tumble weed. Unless they are carefully rooted out this month the seed will be scattered broadcast and Rock county will have cause to mourn.

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

Didn't Want to Be Shielded.

He took her hand gently in his.

They were affianced, and there was no kick coming on the score of conventionality.

"I will always," he murmured, "be at hand to shield thee in the great struggle of life."

She gazed earnestly into his loving eyes.

"No—"

She seemed not to be aware that he started violently upon the word.

"—I must insist upon going to the bargain sales alone. You would only be in the way."

Even as she spoke her face kindled with the excitement of the fray.—Detroit Tribune.

An Unreliable Man.

"Look out for him," said Hostetter McGinnis, referring to a prominent Texas gentleman, "he is a hypocrite, and will play you a bad trick some day, just like he did me."

"What did he do to you?"

STABLE ODORS.

They Played a Big Part in Fixing the Fourth of July.

Jefferson was fond of telling a story which illustrates in a forceable manner the importance that absurdly insignificant matters may sometimes assume. When the deliberative body that gave to the world the Declaration of Independence was in session its proceedings were conducted in a hall close to which was situated a livery stable. The weather was warm, and from the stable came swarms of flies that lighted on the legs of the honorable members, and, biting through the silk stockings then in fashion, gave infinite annoyance. It was no uncommon sight, said Jefferson, to see a member making a speech with a large handkerchief in hand and pausing at every moment to thrash the flies from his thinly protected calves.

The opinion of the body was not unanimous in favor of the document, and, under other circumstances, discussion might have been protracted for days, if not weeks, but the flies were intolerable. Efforts were made to find another hall free from the pests, but in vain. As the weather became warmer the flies grew worse, and the flapping of handkerchiefs was heard all over the hall as an accompaniment to the voices of the speakers. In despair, at last some one suggested that matters be hurried so that the body might adjourn and get away from the flies. There were a few mild protests, but no one heeded them, the immortal declaration was hurriedly copied, and, with handkerchiefs in hand fighting flies as they came, the members hastened up to the table to sign the authentic copy and leave the flies in the lurch. Had it not been for the livery stable and its contents there is no telling when the document would have been completed, but it certainly would not have been signed on the Fourth.

He—Pshaw! anybody can make money, but it isn't everybody who can write a poem. She, significantly—You are right. I have just read one of yours.

Stranger—What price do you set on that red cow of yours? Mr. Haicede—See here, mister, air you an assessor, or has she been run over by the railroad?

Rambler—That Bartlett girl thinks a great deal of me. When I told her I was going around the world she asked me to be sure and write her from every place I visited. Wilter—Yes; she is collecting postage stamps.

There is this difference between happiness and wisdom—he that thinks himself the happiest man is really so, but he that thinks himself the wisest is generally the biggest fool.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nervine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co. Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid

FLASHY AND FLIPPANT.

Dick—See how easily that boy gets on to that bicycle. Bob—That's nothing; you should see how easily I get off mine.

Reedley—Why do you smoke continually from morning until night? Weedley—It's the only time I get. I sleep from night till morning.

"Your city seems to be pretty well cut up by electric railways," said the visitor. "It is," responded the resident, "and so are the citizens."

She, haughtily—I beg your pardon, sir; you have the advantage of me. He, jauntily—I should say I had. I am the fellow you jilted ten years ago.

"And Skipley has really forgiven the man that eloped with his wife?" "What else could he do? The fellow returned the $6 umbrella that they took."

"What made you tell your mother you had a toothache? Now she'll give you medicine." Johnny—Yes, but she'll pay me for takin' it, an' then we can go an' get ice cream.

Mrs. Watts—It is all a slander about a policeman never being where he is wanted. Mrs. Potts—So? Mrs. Watts—Yes. Our cook has a policeman in the kitchen as often as she wishes.

Small Brother, enthusiastically—Oh, grandma, Harry broke the record at the college contest! Grandma—Well, I declare; that boy is always breaking something. What will it cost to fix it, or will we have to get a new one?

Housewife—Well. if I give you some breakfast, you'll have to earn it by chopping some wood for me. Tramp—I'd like ter 'blidge fer, lady; but blesh yer 'art, 'tain't yer the likes o' me to foller in the footsteps o' Mr. Gladstone.

"Now," shrieked Mr. Barnes Tormer, in the great melodrama, "Fished from the Ferry," "now is the time to act." "By gee!" shouted one of the two men in the gallery, "I t'ought it was purty near time for him to begin actin' if he ever wuz goin' to."

HOPE KILLS DESPAIR.

There is One Thing You Want Badly and Must Have.

Neuralgia and nervousness are fearfully prevalent. There is no more painful disease than neuralgia. It indicates a diseased state of nerves and blood and the most terrible suffering is often present.

Most everybody is nervous, and this is more dangerous than most people think, for, as in the case of the well-known S. W. Anderson, Esq., of Warren, Mass., it is very liable to lead to nervous prostration and paralysis, if not cured. He writes as follows about his wonderful recovery:

"Some time ago I was afflicted with nervousness and neuralgia. The pains I suffered were frightful. They commenced in my legs and arms and then went to my head and face. Finally I had a paralytic shock on my right side which laid me up completely

"I continued suffering the most terrible agony from neuralgia and was nearly dead with pain. I took everything I ever heard of but got no better. I consulted four doctors but they did me no good. They said there was nothing but morphine pills that would help me.

"I took them for nearly a year and was no better but began to get even worse. I heard of a skilful doctor in Worcester, Mass., and went there to see him. He said he conld cure me in one week. I staid three days and then went home.

"The day after I got home I was taken worse than I had ever been before and my suffering was more than I could endure.

MR. S. W. ANDERSON.

"I continued to grow worse every day all through the fall and winter, then I became so bad that I had the pain almost constantly, and I could not have lived but a short time longer if help had not been very close at hand.

"My wife saw the advertisement of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and she wanted me to use it. Having heard it very highly spoken of I decided to try it, although I had made up my mind I was about through with this world.

"The first bottle I took stopped the pain entirely, and my improvement was steady and sure from that time until I was cured. I could not have lived more than a week longer, if I had not taken Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"I am thankful to God for this medicine; it is the best remedy that ever came before the public. I thank Dr. Greene and I hope that he will be rewarded here in this world and in the world to come.

"I am constantly recommending it and shall always continue to. I advise everybody to take this most wonderful medicine for it will make them strong, healthy and vigorous."

You must have health. You want to be strong and well. Then why don't you take this greatest of all medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy? It will surely cure you. Try it.

It is recommended and used by physicians because it is the discovery and prescription of that most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th Street, New York. The doctor is consulted with by physicians themselves, in regard to nervous and chronic diseases and all may have his advice free by calling or writing.

MONROE SALISBURY TURNED OUT

Owner of Alix and Other Flyers Expelled From National Tracks.

Monroe S. Salisbury, the famous horseman for whom John Kelly drove last year, was yesterday expelled from the trotting turf. Salisbury's trotting mare Expressive, started in the 2:16 class race in New York, which was begun on Friday last, two heats being trotted before the darkness came on to cause postponement. The mare was heavily backed as a favorite. When she was taken away from the track on Saturday night her backers were left in the lurch as the bets stood just the same as if the mare was on hand to trot it out. Thousands of dollars were thus lost without giving the betters a show for their money. It was too wet to call the race on Saturday and as Salisbury had engagements in Terre Haute this week he refused to wait for the completion of the race Monday, but shipped Expressive with his other horses to the Indiana track. For thus defying the judges he was expelled from all national association tracks.

LIBERAL GIFTS FOR FIRE SUFFERERS

Two Carloads of Supplies Will Go North From Janesville.

The Janesville relief committee has been very successful in collecting supplies for the northern fire sufferers. Teams and canvassers were out again today, collecting clothing and provisions, and today the entire committee, with volunteer assistance, are at work packing and sorting the supplies.

"We have not made a thorough canvass of the city," said one of the committeemen this afternoon. "We have not visited many streets, but we have got more boxes filled with clothing than we can pack into a car. It looks now as though two cars will be required to carry the supplies north. We intend loading one car this evening. Supplies are continually arriving and we may have more than are needed. Some of the goods, in fact, most all, are of good quality. We have found some quilts that have never been used. Many articles are new. Very little crockery has been donated.

"One woman down in the Fourth ward told me she had some good baby clothes that she would give if I thought they would be of use to send," said Committeeman Hemming. "I told her they had as many little babies up in the pineries as they had in any place except the Fourth ward. She gave me the bundle, and they are packed in one of these large boxes, to be handled out to some little suffering tot up north."

One car will probably go forward to-morrow morning, and the second car will follow in a day or two.

HOGAN FOR SHERIFF WITH A $1500 BID

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN OUTLINED THIS AFTERNOON.

The Janesville Officer Will Try Once More For a Residence at the Jail—Frank Morris Has to Fight For the County Chairmanship—The Ticket.

Sheriff	J. W. HOGAN
County Clerk	C. F. TALLARD
Clerk of Court	L. F. ROSENTHAL
Treasurer	IRA W. JONES
Register	AIDEN PROCTOR
District Attorney	C. C. RUSSELL
Surveyor	C. V. KERCH
Coroner	JOHN KILMER
Sup't of Schools, 1st Dist.	J. E. COLEMAN
Sup't of Schools, 2d Dist.	JOS. PALMER

A very tame affair was the Rock County Democratic convention this afternoon at the court house. Less than one hundred people were in the court room when Chairman Morris called the convention to order. Fred C. Burpee of Janesville was elected chairman and Charles C. Tallard of Edgerton secretary.

The chairman appointed C. A. Holcomb, N. Taylor, William Cunningham and J. C. Gillis a committee on credentials, when a recess of ten minutes was taken.

During the recess a few spectators entered the hall until about half the seats were about half filled.

The convention consisted according to the call, of four delegates from each ward and town in the county, making a total number of one hundred and twenty-six members. Many of the towns had no regular delegates present, but the committee on credentials "fixed" their report, which was accepted, showing all the towns and wards represented. "The next thing is the nomination of sheriff" said Chairman Burpee, and a delegate back in the hall nominated John Hogan. This the chair thought a little premature and suggested that naming candidates be deferred until tellers were appointed. George Moran, Charles Horn, Aaron Fessenden, and George Helmbolt were appointed tellers. A. D. Wickham of Beloit, said it was pretty well understood who the candidate was to be and he moved that the rules be suspended and the nomination be by acclamation.

William Smith soared high in nominating John Hogan, the delegates being given a tip to cheer when Hogan's name should be mentioned by Smith. Chairman Morris seconded nomination of Hogan, and presented a proposition to board the prisoners for $1,500 instead of $2,500 a year, stating that Hogan had accepted the proposition. Hogan was then nominated by acclamation.

For clerk of the court one ballot was taken. L. F. Rosenthal of Beloit, got 59 votes, A. W. Dibble of Evansville, 45, and I. L. Hoover of Clinton, 4. Rosenthal was declared nominated.

The other nominations were made by acclamation and were:

For County Clerk—C. F. Tallard of Edgerton.

For Treasurer—Ira W. Jones of Beloit.

For Register—Aiden Proctor of La Prairie.

For District Attorney—Charles C. Russell, Janesville.

For Surveyor—C. V. Kerch of Janesville.

For Coronor—John Kilmer of Rock.

For Superintendent of Schools, First District—J. E. Coleman, Evansville.

For Superintendent of Schools, Second District—Joseph Palmer, Harmony.

The convention began a tussle over the chairmanship about 4 o'clock, Clay M. Metsker, the Beloit editor trying to supplant Postmaster F. M. Morris.

CAUCUSES SLIMLY ATTENDED.

Local Democrats Did Not Turn Out Very Well Last Evening.

Local democrats must have received an early tip on the Maine election last evening, just previous to holding their city caucuses, and the tips not being of an encouraging nature they remained at home. Caucuses were held in all the wards last evening by the democras, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the democratic county convention which assembles in this city today to nominate a county ticket. The largest caucus was that in the Fourth ward, where just thirteen democrats attended. In the other wards hardly sufficient numbers gathered to organize. However full delegations were selected in all the wards. Caucuses are summarized as follows:

First Ward—Chairman, J. P. Baker; secretary, E. O. Smith; delegates, A. F. Krueger, Horace McElroy, E. S. Head and Martin Dunn.

Second Ward—Chairman, James Scott; secretary, E. J. McCue; delegates, E. J. McCue, James Scott, John M. Kneff and William Hadden.

Third Ward—Chairman, V. P. Richardson; secretary, George C. Baird; delegates, Victor P. Richardson, John Harvey, Charles C. Russell and G. W. Stearns.

Fourth Ward—Chairman, Dr. O P. Robinson. secretary, F. C. Burpee; delegates, Isaac F. Connors, W. M. Cunningham, F. C. Burpee and Charles Horn.

Fifth Ward—Chairman, James Sennett; secretary, M. J. Dougherty; delegates, Paul Rudolph, James Sennett, M. J. Dougherty and J. B. McLean.

THE WAR GOD ON HIS TRAVELS.

General Doe's Tour Through The Country Is Fully Appreciated.

How fortunate it is that war, horrid war, is not imminent in the United States. Joey Doe, grim-visaged, terrible, armed cap-a-pie, with uniforms rivaling in brilliance the insufferable sun, is to make a tour of inspection, going from army post to army post. Ours is a brave soldiery, yet what cheek so brave that it will not blanch, what eyelid so steady that it will not quiver, what heart so stout that it will not quail, or so light that it will not sink, in the awful presence of Joey? To send him among our soldiers in time of peace is well, for it will waken memory in their hearts, and endow them with fore-knowledge. They will look before and after. They will behold the wars that have been and the wars that are to be.

A countenance in which do meet fierce records, promises as fierce—that is Joey's. He should be sent, when war is threatened, to the nation which threatens us with war. When his haughty and imperious mien, his hole-boring eye, his unquenchable thirst for blood and his innate and acquired ferocity have stricken the foreigners with terror, and made them sore afraid, they will think twice before they tackle the United States. But, while seeing Joey once in a long time will tax the courage of the bravest, to see him every day, and gradually to learn how to look upon him without trembling, will school the most timid to a disciplined fortitude. This fact suggests a use for Joey when the present adminstration shall need him no more. He should be made part of the curriculum at West Point, and whoso learns soonest to look fearlessly upon his face should be assigned to the post of greatest danger. To meet his eye is a deed of prowess and to know him is a military education.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

MUST CONFORM TO THE LAW.

Grocers and Other Merchants Prosecuted For Improperly Selling Paris Green.

The State Board of Pharmacy, through Secretary E. B. Heimstreet, of this city, has entered upon a crusade against the sale of Paris green by grocery, general and hardware stores contrary to law. Two cases of this kind have been brought. The first was against John Droegkamp & Son, hardware dealers at 2115 Fond du Lac avenue, and they were fined $50 and costs. The case of the state vs. Yahr Bros., of Princeton, for selling Paris green without having it labeled poison, was tried at Berlin when the jury brought in a verdict fixing the fine at $50 and cost amounting to $111.

NEW FIFTH WARD BOARD LEGAL

Votes of Six Aldermen Not Needed to Ratify the Appointment.

"The appointments by the mayor of inspectors and clerks of election for the Fifth ward, will stand," says City Attorney McElroy. "The rules of the council require a vote of six aldermen to make changes in officers appointed by the council. The city charter and rules do not apply to the appointment of boards of election. The appointments are governed by the statutes, which supercede all other regulations."

Before this announcement from the city attorney was made public many supposed that the Fifth ward would be without a board, while a few insisted that the old board would hold. The opinion of the attorney appears to set all at rest, and the appointments made last evening will stand. C. E. Church now represents republicans on the board.

HUMANE SOCIETY IS GROWING.

Report Made by the Secretary Shows an Encouraging State of Affairs.

Encouraging progress has been made by the Janesville Humane Society in the last year. The report made by Miss Millie Chittenden, secretary, at the union meeting Sunday evening, showed a healthy growth. There have been few complaints of cruelty during the last year, and the rat-killing and other brutal exhibitions that led to the formation of the society, have been stopped entirely.

MAYOR BURNS UNSIGNED NOTES.

Anonymous Letters All Go Into Waste Basket as Soon as Opened.

Mayor Thoroughgood is in receipt of many annonymous communications, making complaints concerning city affairs. The mayor throws such communications in the waste basket, the proper place for such stuff, but says that if any citizens have a complaint or grievance, if they will call on him personally, stating their compiaint, verifying the same, he will do all he can to right matters.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILT BY JANESVILLE MEN

CLARK & STEWART GIVEN THE CONTRACT.

Their Price $43,369, While the Next Lowest Was H. R. Edwards of Racine With $4700—Two Commissioners Oppose Letting the Contract Under Prevailing Circumstances.

For $43,369 Janesville will get a high school. The bid of Clark & Stewart of this city was accepted by the board of education this afternoon. H. R. Edwards of Racine bid $4,700 and Taddey & Son $48,900.

The changes made from the original specifications consist in dropping the terra cotta decorations, price $2,100 and allowing the two lower floors to be built without "deadening," a saving of $600. A contract will be drawn by the city attorney and Clerk Cunningham at once.

MAYOR OF AFTON A SWIFT MOVER

Municipal Court Proceedings Enlivened by a Proof of His High Speed

John P. Powers of Afton, created considerable amusement in the municipal court this morning. Powers frequently visits Janesville and too frequently quenches his thirst with large quantities of fluid which is not drawn from the water company's faucets. Patrolman Hogan made a head-end collision with Powers this morning, and not long after the big policeman had Powers facing the bar in the municipal court. Powers is in the habit of facing bars, consequently he was not awkward in his movements when Hogan introduced him to the clerk as "the mayor of Afton," Powers smiled when the honor was heaped upon him. He was set back somewhat when the genial clerk responded.

"Well Mayor Powers, what can we do for you this morning?"

Powers could not make answer, but regained speech quickly when Hogan interrupted with:

"Powers, how long will it take you to get out of the city?"

"Just ten minutes," he replied.

"Try it, and if I find you in the city fifteen minutes from this time, you get a room in the county jail," rejoined Hogan.

Powers lit out.

"You ought to have seen him go," said Clerk Williams. Professional sprinters were not in it. His coat tails stuck straight out behind, and he fairly flew down the stairs and up West Milwaukee street."

FOR LIBERALITY IN RELIGIOUS BELIEF.

TALMAGE ON THE COMMUNION OF SAINTS.

The Sectarian Bigot Gets a Scathing Denunciation—Truth and Error Now On Trial—Cause of Intolerance—Liberality Coming.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is now in Australia, whence he will shortly sail for Ceylon and India, has selected as the subject for to-day's sermon through the press, "Communion of Saints," the text chosen being Judges 12:vi, "Then said they unto him, say now Shibboleth; and he said Sibboleth; for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him, and slew him at the passages of Jordan."

Do you know the difference of pronunciation between shibboleth and sibboleth? A very small und unimportant difference, you say. And yet, that difference was the difference between life and death of a great many people. The Lord's people, Gilead and Ephraim, got into a great fight, and Ephraim was worsted, and on the retreat came to the fords of the river Jordan to cross. Order was given that all Ephraimites coming there be slain. But how could it be found out who were Ephraimites? They were detected by their pronunciation. Shibboleth was a word that stood for river. The Ephraimites had a brogue of their own, and when they tried to say "shibboleth" always left out the sound of the "h." When it was asked that they say shibboleth they said sibboleth, and were slain. "Then said they unto him, say now shibboleth; and he said sibboleth, for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passages of Jordan." A very small difference, you say, between Gilead and Ephraim, and yet how much intolerance about that small difference! The Lord's tribes in our time—by which I mean the different denominations of Christians—sometimes magnify a very small difference, and the only difference between scores of denominations to-day is the difference between shibboleth and sibboleth.

The church of God is divided into a great number of denominations. Time would fail me to tell of the Calvinists, and the Arminians, and the Sabbatarians, and the Baxterians, and the Dunkers, and the Shakers, and the Quakers, and the Methodists, and the Baptists, and the Episcopalians, and the Lutherans, and the Congregationalists, and the Presbyterians, and the Spiritualists, and a score of other denominations of religionists, some of them founded by very good men, some of them founded by very egotistic men, some of them founded by very bad men. But as I demand for myself liberty of conscience, I must give that same liberty to every other man, remembering that he no more differs from me than I differ from him. I advocate the largest liberty in all religious belief and form of worship. In art, in politics, in morals, and in religion, let there be no gag law, no moving of the previous question, no persecution, no intolerance.

You know that the air and the water keep pure by constant circulation, and I think there is a tendency in religious discussion to purification and moral health. Between the fourth and sixteenth centuries the church proposed to make people think aright by prohibiting discussion, and by strong censorship of the press, and rack, and gibbet, and hot lead down the throat, tried to make people orthodox; but it was discovered that you can not change a man's belief by twisting of his head, nor make a man see differently by putting an awl through his eyes. There is something in a man's conscience which will hurl off the mountain that you threw upon it, and unsinged of the fire, out of the flame will make red wings on which the martyr will mount to glory.

In that time of which I speak, between the fourth and sixteenth centuries, people went from the house of God into the most appalling iniquity, and right along by consecrated altars there were tides of drunkenness and licentiousness such as the world never heard of, and the very sewers of perdition broke loose and flooded the church. After awhile the printing press was freed, and it broke the shackles of the human mind. Then there came a large number of bad books, and where there was one man hostile to the Christian religion, there were twenty men ready to advocate it; so I have not any nervousness in regard to this battle going on between Truth and Error. The truth will conquer just as certainly as that God is stronger than the devil. Let Error run if you only let Truth run along with it. Urged on by sceptic's shout and transcendentalist's spur, let it run, God's angels of wrath are in hot pursuit, and quicker than eagle's beak clutches out a hawk's heart, God's vengeance will tear it to pieces.

I propose to speak to you of sectarianism—its origin, its evils, and its cures. There are those who would make us think that this monster, with horns and hoofs, is religion. I shall chase it to its hiding place, and drag it out of the caverns of darkness, and rip off its hide. But I want to make a distinction between bigotry and the lawful fondness for peculiar religious beliefs and forms of worship. I have no admiration for a nothingarian.

In a world of such tremendous vicissitude and temptation, and with a soul that must after awhile stand before a throne of insufferable brightness, in a day when the rocking of the mountains and the flaming of the heavens and the upheaval of the seas shall be among the least of the excitements, to give account for every thought, word, action, preference, and dislike—that man is mad who has no religious preference? But our early education, our physical temperament, our mental constitution, will very much decide our form of worship.

George Whitefield was going over a Quaker rather roughly for some of his religious sentiments and the Quaker said: "George, I am as thou art; I am for bringing all men to the hope of the gospel; therefore, if thou wilt not quarrel with me about my broad brim, I will not quarrel with thee about thy black gown. George, give me thy hand."

In tracing out the religion of sectarianism, or bigotry, I find that a great deal of it comes from wrong education in the home circle. There are parents who do not think it wrong to caricature and jeer the peculiar forms of religion in the world, and denounce other sects and other denominations. It is very often the case that that kind of education acts just opposite to what was expected, and the children grow up, and, after a while, go and see for themselves; and, looking in those churches, and finding that the people are good there, and they love God and keep his commandments, by natural reaction they go and join those very churches. I could mention the names of prominent ministers of the gospel who spent their whole life bombarding other denominations and who lived to see their children preach the gospel in those very denominations. But it is often the case that bigotry starts in a household, and that the subject of it never recovers. There are tens of thousands of bigots 10 years old.

I think sectarianism and bigotry also rise from too great prominence of any one denomination in a community. All the other denominations are wrong, and his denomination is right because his denomination is the most wealthy or the most popular, or the most influential, and it is "our" church, and "our" religious organization, and "our" choir, and "our" minister, and the man tosses his head, and wants other denominations to know their places. It is a great deal better in any community when the great denominations of Christians are about equal in power, marching side by side for the world's conquest. Mere outside prosperity, mere worldly power, is no evidence that the church is acceptable to God. Better a barn with Christ in the manger than a cathedral with magnificent harmonies rolling through the long drawn aisle, and an angel from heaven in the pulpit, if there be no Christ in the chancel, and no Christ in the robes. Bigotry is often the child of ignorance.

You seldom find a man with large intellect who is a bigot. It is the man who thinks he knows a great deal, but does not. That man is always a bigot. The whole tendency to education and civilization is to bring a man out of that kind of state of mind and heart. There was in the far east a great obelisk, and one side of the obelisk was white, another side of the obelisk was green, another side of the obelisk was blue, and travelers went and looked at that obelisk. but they did not walk around it. One man looked at one side, another at another side, and they came home each one looking at only one side; and they happened to meet, the story says; and they got into a rank quarrel about the color of that obelisk. One man said it was white, another man said it was green, another man said it was blue, and when they were in the very heat of the controversy a more intelligent traveler came, and said, "Gentlemen, I have seen that obelisk, and you are all right, and you are all wrong. Why didn't you walk all around the obelisk?"

Look out for the man who sees only one side of a religious truth. Look out for the man who never walks around about these great theories of God and eternity and the dead. He will be a bigot inevitably—the man who only sees one side. There is no man more to be pitied than he who has in his head just one idea—no more, no less. More light, less sectarianism. There is nothing that will so soon kill bigotry as sunshine—God's sunshine.

So I have set before you what I consider to be the causes of bigotry. I have set before you the origin of this great evil. What are some of the baleful effects? First of all it cripples investigation. You are wrong, and I am right, and that ends it. No taste for exploration, no spirit of investigation. From the glorious realm of God's truth, over which an archangel might fly from eternity to eternity and not reach the limit, the man shuts himself out and dies, a blind mole under a corn shock. It stops all investigation.

While each denomination of Christians is to present all the truths of the Bible, it seems to me that God has given to each denomination an especial mission to give particular emphasis to some one doctrine; and so the Calvinistic churches must present the sovereignty of God, and the Arminian churches must present man's free agency, and the Episcopal churches must present the importance of order and solemn ceremony, and the Baptist churches must present the necessity of ordinances, and the Congregational church must present the responsibility of the individual member, and the Methodist church must show what holy enthusiasm, hearty congregational singing can accomplish. While each denomination of Christians must set forth all the doctrines of the Bible, I feel it is especially incumbent upon each denomination to put particular emphasis on some one doctrine.

Another great damage done by the sectarianism and bigotry of the church is that it disgusts people with the Christian religion. Now, my friends, the church of God was never intended for a war barrack. People are afraid of a riot. You go down the street and you see an excitement, and missiles flying through the air, and you hear the shock of firearms. Do you, the peaceful and industrious citizen, go through that street? Oh, no! you will say, "I'll go around the block." Now, men come and look upon this narrow path to heaven, and sometimes see the ecclesiastical brickbats flying every whither, and they say, "Well, I guess I'll take the broad road; there is so much sharp-shooting on the narrow road I guess I'll try the broad road!"

Francis I. so hated the Lutherans that he said that if he thought there was one drop of Lutheran blood in his veins he would puncture them and let that drop out. Just as long as there is so much hostility between denomination and denomination, or between one professed Christian and another, or between one church and another, so long men will be disgusted with the Christian religion, and say, "If that is religion I want none of it."

Again, bigotry and sectarianism do great damage in the fact that they hinder the triumph of the gospel. Oh, how much wasted ammunition! how many men of splendid intellect have given their whole life to controversial disputes when, if they had given their life to something practical, they might have been vastly useful! Suppose, while I speak there were a common enemy coming up the bay, and all the forts around the harbor began to fire into each other—you would cry out, "National suicide! why don't those forts blaze away in one direction, and that against the common enemy?" And yet I sometimes see in the church of the Lord Jesus Christ a strange thing going on: church against church, minister against minister, denomination against denomination, firing away into their own fort, or the fort which ought to be on the same side, instead of concentrating their energy and giving one mighty and everlasting volley against the navies of darkness riding up through the bay!

Perhaps I might forcefully illustrate this truth by calling your attention to an incident which took place about twenty years ago. One Monday morning at about 2 o'clock, while her 900 passengers were sound asleep in her berths dreaming of home, the steamer "Atlantic" crashed into Mars Head. Five hundred souls in ten minutes landed in eternity. Oh, what a scene! Agonized men and women running up and down the gangways and clutching for the rigging, and the plunge of the helpless steamer and the clapping of the hands of the merciless sea over the drowning and the dead threw two continents into terror. But see this brave quartermaster pushing out with the life line until he gets to the rock, and see these fishermen gathering up the shipwrecked, and taking them into the cabins, and wrapping them in the flannels snug and warm; and see that minister of the gospel, with three other men, getting into a life boat, and pushing out for the wreck, pulling away across the surf, and pulling away until they saved one more man, and then getting back with him to the shore. Can those men ever forget that night? And can they ever forget their companionship in peril, companionship in struggle, companionship in awful catastrophe and rescue? Never! Never! In whatever part of the earth they meet, they will be friends when they mention the story of that night when the "Atlantic" struck Mars Head. Well, my friends, our world has gone into a worse shipwreck. Sin drove it on the rocks. The old ship has lurched and tossed in the tempests of six thousand years. Out with the lifeline! I do not care what denomination carries it. Out with the life boat! I do not care what denomination rows it. Side by side, in the memory of common hardships, and common trials, and common prayers, and common tears, let us be brothers forever. We must be.

One army of the living God,
To his command we bow;
Part of the host have crossed the flood,
And part are crossing now.

And I expect to see the day when all denominations of Christians shall join hands around the cross of Christ and recite the creed: "I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, and in the communion of saints, and in life everlasting. Amen!"

I give you all the thanks.

Ohio has 11,740 saloons.

The Catholic Total Abstinence union of the United States has 57,350 members.

New York restaurateurs have experienced more failures of late than at any other time since 1873.

The Olympian games are to be revived in their old home, Greece, in 1896. A site in Athens is to be chosen for the athletic displays, while nautical sports will be carried on at the Piraeus.

After serving five years of an eighteen years' sentence, George Lorber has been released from the Maryland penitentiary. Since his imprisonment it has transpired that he is entirely innocent of the crime he was charged with, and his pardon is the consequence.

A hardware concern in Bangor received a large invoice of wire nails recently. The head salesman told a new clerk to go into the basement and count them. The boy was gone a good while, in fact, so long that they became worried, and going down found that he had opened two kegs and was counting the nails one by one.

CASIMIR DE PERRIER AND HIS TASTES.

PERSONAL TRAITS OF FRANCE'S PRESIDENT.

Wears Turn-Down Collars and Treats His Hair After the American Fashion —A Curious Anagram on His Name—His Wife.

ANTOLYCUS, who made it his business to gather unconsidered trifles, was always popular among the classical gossips, those wares in which he particularly dealt have perpetuated the popularity to this day, and the intelligent student of a man's character attaches importance to the minor events in which the man figures, events that rarely find their way into print and are thus unknown and unenjoyed by the reading thousands.

Hitherto, with the exception of Marshal MacMahon, none of the presidents of France has known how to ride. Neither Thiers, Grevy nor Carnot were horsemen. Casimir-Perier, on the contrary, is a fervent lover of what has been called the noblest conquest of man, and rides to perfection. One day recently he went to the Bois mounted on a superb animal. He was accompanied by two officers of his household, and followed by a groom. Naturally his appearance caused a sensation, and he was saluted all along his route. It is said that the bicycle mania has done a great deal of harm to the art of riding, but now that the first magistrate of France prefers the real to the steel horse, perhaps a reaction in favor of the former will set in.

The new president has already become the victim of the anagram writer.

Paul Pierre Jean Casimir-Perier, president de la Republique Francaise, works out thus: Pris cinq par la peur, par lui France si aimee de Dieu, espera liberte. The two superfluous letters, J and N, manipulated after the Cagliostro method, give the words Juxta Nefas.

The first clause of the sentence refers to the fact that Casmir-Perier is the fifth occupant of the presidential chair.

This anagram on Carnot's name made its appearance just after his murder: Francois Marie Sadi-Carnot, president de la Republique Francaise. S(anto) I(eronimo) Caserio, Italien du nord, bien arme par des Francais, le tuera. Unfortunately four letters, C, P, Q and F, resist the process, but they are ingeniously interpreted thus: C(asimir) P(erier) Q(uietudo) F(rancia).

The portion of the Elysee palace where M. and Mme. Casimir-Perier have taken up their residence is the second story of the left wing, the apartments being the same as those occupied by the late president. The locks through the building are still adorned with "N" and the imperial eagle, which Thiers wanted to have removed, but when the architect of the palace asked for eighteen months and 50,000 francs to do it M. Thiers thought it was more economical to permit the stigmas of monarchy to remain. There are 1,200 doors in the palace.

The bed occupied by the president is very large and perfectly square, and has three high mattresses. Napoleon III, the King of Sweden, Ismail Pasha, Thiers and the succeeding presidents slept in it. All of the sovereigns who visited Paris during the empire slept in this bed, excepting the late Czar Alexander, who objected to it on the ground that it was too comfortable. He preferred a small iron bedstead that he brought with him and the hardest mattress the palace could supply. The decorations of the bedroom are white and red. The panels are adorned with gobelin tapestry.

At the back of each medallion is engraved the name of the president who has worn it and of the Grand Chancellor who has officially presented it to him. Since the order was instituted there have been three of these grand collars. The original was made for Napoleon I., and was also worn by Napoleon III. The second belonged to the family of Murat. A third was known to have existed, but it could not be traced until, quite unexpectedly, it was found in the possession of the emperor of Austria, who wore it when he visited Paris in 1867. It then appeared that it had been given by Napoleon I. to the Emperor Joseph on the occasion of Napoleon's marriage with Marie Louise, and had remained from that date in the possession of the Austrian imperial family. The collar worn by M. Casimir-Perier cost 10,000 francs.

SAYINGS AND DOINGS.

The most costly piece of railway line in the world is that between the Mansion house and Aldgate stations in London, which required the expenditure of nearly $10,000,000 a mile.

An English curio hunter who was anxious to secure the carriage in which Carnot was riding when Cesario stabbed him offered the town council of Lyons $10,000 for it, but the offer was refused.

The common council of Bridgeport, Conn., has passed an ordinance restricting the rate of speed of trains which pass through the city to four miles and a half an hour. As it is something over six miles across the city, the New York and Boston flyers will be delayed about an hour and a half.

There is to be seen at Manchester, Mass., an interesting genealogical tree, the property of George Locke of that city. It is a blue print of some six feet in length and two feet in width, and contains 3,619 names. The trunk of the tree consists of the inscription, "John Locke, born in London, Eng., September 16, 1627," and the branches consist of ten generations of John Locke's descendants.

One of the curiosities of Brazil is a tree whose wood and bark contain so much silica that they are used by potters. Both wood and bark are burned and the ashes are pulverized and mixed in equal proportions with clay, producing a very superior ware. The tree grows to a height of 100 feet, but does not exceed a foot in diameter. The fresh bark cuts like sandstone, and when dried is brittle and hard.

In the different parts of the irrigated world there is an astounding difference in the efficacy of water, and, as might be expected, the United States furnishes examples of extreme waste and extreme economy. Taking the flow of one cubic foot per second without making allowances for differing rainfalls and different length of growing seasons, this supplies Colorado from 50 to 80 acres; Italy, 70; Utah and France, 80 to 100; India, 150 to 400; Spain, as high as 1,000; California, 80 to 1,600, and by sub-irrigation pipes, from 1,500 to 9,000.

AMUSING TRIFLES.

Judge—How old are you, miss? Elderly Female—I am—I am— Judge—Better hurry up; every moment makes it worse.

Author—Well, professor, how do you like my new play? Critic—Splendid! Wonderful! So realistic! Especially the burglars in it. Even their dialogue is stolen.

Friend—You still employ Dr. Hardhead, I see. Mrs. De Style—He's just lovely! My husband and I both like him. When we are ailing he always recommends old port for my husband and Newport for me.

Mrs. Litehart—My husband gave me some money this morning. Mrs. Spendit—And are you going shopping to-day? Mrs. L.—No, indeed, no shopping for me to-day. I'm going down town to buy something.

"Deah me," said the bore, interrupting the conversation at a few minutes after 12, "I believe it must be time for me to go." "Oh, no, it can't be," said the tired girl, emphatically, "that time won't come around again till to-morrow evening."

First Girl—I like a man with a past. A man with a past is always interesting. Second Girl—That's true; but I don't think he's nearly so interesting as a man with a future. Third Girl—The man who interests me is the man with a present; and the more expensive the present is the more interest I take in it.

"Marie and George have separated, you know. He told her one night that when he was out of town he always felt as though he would give $10 for just a word with her." "Well?" "And so the next time he did leave town she put him to the test by calling him up on a long distance telephone and making him pay the bill."

In connection with the Chinese oath a story is told of a representative of the middle kingdom who once appeared to give evidence in court. He was politely consulted as to the method he would prefer to be sworn. "Oh," said he, with a breadth of outlook not common in Sir John Bridge's court, "kill 'im cock, break 'im plate, smell 'im book, all samey."

STORIES ON THEIR ROUNDS.

A train up in Ontario lately ran over a lamb and its owner sent the roilroad the following claim for damages: "O. & G. V. Ry., Dr., to William Mahon, for 1 ram lamb, $3. The fence is not in good enough order and it got the belly torn out of it, remit by return mail."

The humor of a coroner's jury must necessarily be ghastly, but that it may yet be humorous is shown by a verdict rendered at a British inquest not long ago. A carpenter had ended his life by cutting his throat, and after the testimony had developed the fact that just before committing the fatal deed he had asked "his mother-in-law to kiss him," the jury brought in a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane."

An English newspaper, in speaking of the five classes of eggs found in London shops—new laid eggs, breakfast eggs, fresh eggs, cooking eggs and finally eggs—tells this story: "Once upon a time a shy young curate had the honor of breakfasting with his bishop. The great man noticed that his guest was making slow progress with his boiled eggs and called cheerily across the table to ask if there was anything wrong with it. 'Oh, no, my lord,' stammered the young man in great embarrassment, 'it's a very good egg—and excellent egg—in parts.'"

Not the Fault of the System.

Banks strengthens his memory by the use of a system of mnemonics, to learn which he paid the inventor $25.

Rivers intrusted a package to Banks' care the other evening and the latter apologized next morning for having failed to deliver it.

"The fact is, Rivers," he said, "I forgot all about it."

"But how about the $25 system of mnemonics?"

"That system," retorted Banks hotly, "is all right. I forgot to apply it—that's all."

Truthful, But Not Polite.

Edith—What a quick turn for repartee Harry Prince has.

Mabel—But he never says anything to wound one's feelings.

Edith—And he is so gallant! You should think the world of him. He was so prompt in your defense the other day. Somebody remarked: "There are no frills on Mabel Stone," and Harry replied: "On the contrary, she is distinctly plain."—Boston Transcript.

The Fondest Hour Memory Recalls

The question naturally suggests itself, which is "tha fondest hour memory recalls?" Has the reader, whose attention we hope to engage, ever had a controversy with his stomach on the subject of dyspepsia. After convincing proofs that the digestive organ has got the upper hand, has a wise resort been made to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters? If so, the "fondest hour" has been recalled by memory in the shape of a lasting resumption of the power o digest, assimilate thoroughly and eat heartily without fear of being uncomfortable afterward. When the dinner bell, that "tocsin of the soul," strikes agreeably on the ear, the auditor then greets it as a welcome sound and hastens to obey its summons. The Bitters, so renowned as a stomachic, overcome, too, malarial, bilious and kidney trouble, and remedy nervousness, rheumatism and sick headache.

Where Science ends and Common Sense should rule. Persons of sedentary habits are liable to indigestion or dyspepsia. These, in turn, will bring on nervous disorders, kidney complaints, constipation, etc. This is especially the case with merchants, students and scientists. They will give you the exact dimensions of Jupiter, the distance from Saturn to the sun, to a foot, but they cannot or will not tell themselves what will cure this train of disorders.

For ailments resulting from sedentary habits—inactivity of the liver, habitual constipation, etc.—the entire medical fraternity of Europe and America almost unanimously recommend the genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salt and the Waters of Carlsbad.
